

Abstract of the Disclosure

A high resolution objective lens assembly (20, 120, 220, 320) is implemented with refractive lens elements made of modified fused silica for operation at deep ultraviolet (DUV) wavelengths to reduce birefringence-caused image aberrations. The high resolution is achieved by an optical design that is characterized by a very high numerical aperture (NA) and short wavelength operation.

BEST AVAILABLE COPY